Objective

A passionate and creative individual with a strong foundation in both visual art and software development. I'm seeking an opportunity to work in the Art Department for film or television, where I can contribute to creative teams and grow hands-on experience. I'm deeply passionate about design, aesthetics, and bringing artistic concepts to life—both physically and digitally. Alongside my love for art, I also have a growing passion for software development, where I enjoy building and designing user-friendly digital experiences.
